About the Art

Judith Saupper examines the topics of time and means of saving and representing it through her works of art. These are divided into three series (Spotlights #1-8, Time Lapse Star Paintings #1-4, and Today: No Longer), which deal with the past, the present, and the future. The characteristics of disincarnate time are portrayed: nunc stans, time standing still; time not as a linear process but as a spatial fabric with jumps and tears, wrinkles and stretch marks. What if time is nothing more than an idea? What if overcoming it would only require an immense exertion of will?
